Wednesday, August 11. 1703.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated August 9.

WE have receiv'd Letters from Naples of the 10th of July importing, that the Dukes of Matalone and Regina died there lately: That a Gentleman was come thither from the Viceroy of Sardinia, to solicit Succours of Troops, and to lay out 14000 Crowns in Arms and Ammunitions of War: And that 2 Companies of Infantry were order'd to return to the City of Naples from the Abruzzo, on a Representation made to the Viceroy, that that Province was burden'd with more Troops than it could well subsist.

By the Neutral Countries we have receiv'd the following News from Brussels, printed.

Madrid, July 20. On the 12th Advice was brought to this Court, of a Victory obtain'd by the Troops of the 2 Crowns, over the Enemies commanded by the Dutch General the Baron d'Obdam, at Eckeren near Antwerp; for which good News Illuminations and Bonfires were made three Nights successively, and on the 13th the King and Queen accompanied by the Lords and Ladies of the Court, went in publick to the Church of our Lady of Atocha, to assist at the Te Deum which was sung on this occasion. The Duke of Alva is not yet set out on his Embassy to France, and notwithstanding most of his Equipage is already sent before, 'tis likely he will not begin his Journey till the great Heats are over. The 2 Regiments of the Principality of Catalonia are expected here daily, and will march into Estramadura, where there is already a great number of Troops, which if occasion require will be drawn together into a Body for the Security of the Frontier. They continue to beat up for Voluntiers in this and other Cities, and the Troops that are here, are exercis'd daily, and are order'd to hold themselves in a readiness to march towards the Frontiers. They write from Cadix, that a Detachment of 500 Horse is march'd for Badajos; that 2 Ships lately arriv'd with Ammunitions of War are unlading there; and that the Train of Artillery design'd for the Defence of the Posts that are fortified about that City and the neighbouring Places, is compleatly got ready.

Rome, July 14. The Pope is well recover'd of his late Indisposition, continues his Application to publick Business, holds frequent Congregations on the present State of Affairs in Christendom, and this Week gave 2 long Audiences to the Cardinals Barberigo and Fourbin. The Town of Ancona refuses to receive the Reinforcement lately sent thither from hence under the Command of the Count of San Martino. The Cardinal di San Cesareo, who was sent to Genoa by his Holiness to take up a considerable Sum of Money at Interest to supply the pressing Occasions of the Apostolical Chamber; has already remitted 200000 Crowns hither from thence, and another Sum to Ferrara to pay off that Garrison. The Marquess de Ragiri, who is a Dependant on the Spanish Ambassador, having taken upon him to talk frequently and openly with too great liberty of the House of Austria, some Domesticks of Cardinal Grimani and of the Count de Lamberg, took an opportunity last Week to cudgel him in a publick Coffee-house so severely, that they left him half dead. The Pope being made acquainted with it was highly displeas'd; but the Imperial Ambassador sent a Person to day to inform him what great Provocations the Marquess had given for such Usage; which has satisfied his Holiness. The Town of Senegallia having sent to desire the Pope to intercede with the King of France, that his Frigats which cruize in the Adriatick may not molest any Vessels coming to the great Fair kept in that Town, or returning from it, his Holiness sent for the Cardinal de Fourbin, who has promis'd to procure Passports for all Vessels of any Nation whatever to pass and repass with all Safety to that Fair. The Congregation de propaganda fide, assembled lately to consider of the Affair of Monsieur Cock, (who was sometime since made Apostolical Vicar in Holland by the Recommendation of the Jesuites, Sworn Enemies of Monsieur Code, who was invested with that Dignity, and of whom the States of Holland, approv'd preferably to Monsieur Cock,) and resolv'd to write to the Interuncio at Brussels, that it is the Pope's pleasure that Monsieur Cock be permitted to discharge the Functions of his Office of Apostolical Vicar in Holland, in all Points.

Hague, August 14. The following Placard has been publish'd here,

The Councillors Deputies of the States of Holland and Westfriseland, to all whom these Presents may concern, Greeting. It having been represented to us, that a certain Person nam'd Theodore Cock, lately a Romish Priest at Leiden, has presum'd to write a Letter in Latin to some Cardinals at Rome, dated Nov. 10. 1702. on occasion of the Publication of a Placard of their Noble and High Mightinesses, dated Aug. 17. 1702. forbidding the said Cock to exercise the Office of Apostolical Vicar, &c. In which Letter he inserted a Scandalous and Injurious Passage, the Translation of which is as follows.

We could hardly believe that such things would have been advis'd, much less that the States of Holland could have been prevail'd with to put them in Execution, seeing in other Matters the said States are Moderate, Prudent, and Indulgent; But Avarice which betray'd Christ, has likewise betray'd Christ's Vicar. Among several good Men an ill one is found, among several generous Men a covetous one. Of the Senators whereof the Supreme Council is compos'd, the Noble and Puissant Lord of Duyvenvord is President; to whom the rest pay great Deference and are almost wholly led by him. The Adversaries of Christ blinded him with their Presents. That Presents of considerable Value were made him is certain.

For these Causes, considering that several Copies and Extracts of the said Letter have been dispers'd, by which not only the Honour and Reputation of the said Lord of Duyvenvorde is greatly injur'd, but likewise the Grandeur and Dignity of the College

College of their Noble Mightinesses, We gave necessary Orders for taking into Custody the said Cock, to examine him concerning the said recited Passage; but being inform'd he is fled, and considering it is of great Concernment to Justice and to the Country, that such a Calumniator be exemplarily punish'd for so vile and enormous an Offence, We have thought fit and resolv'd, as we do by these presents, to give a Recompence of 3000 Guilders to any Person who shall deliver the said Cock into the Hands of Justice, or discover where he may be seiz'd: Promising besides, that we will conceal the Name of the Person who shall make such a Discovery. Given at the Hague, Aug. 8. 1703.
By Order of the Councillors Deputies,
Simon van Beaumont.

London, August 10. The Affair of the Captains Allen and Crow, and the Sentence pass'd on them, being reported to the Court at Windsor, they are dismiss'd Her Majesty's Service; And Captain Cock is made Commander of the Darunouth, and Captain Hanaway of the Lark, in their rooms.
